CHILDRENS ALIVENESS WORKSHOPS

A one-day workshop in awareness training for children aged 6 to 13. Will be available on a weekend in June, July, and August (see dates below).

This workshop is designed to have the children experience their God-given potentials. They will work with art materials, nature, minerals, and energy molecules.

TRAINERS:

 PATRICIA WORTMAN: nationally-known lecturer, artist, and teacher. A graduate of San Jose State University with 12 years experience as a Cosmogenic Art Teacher; Editor and Publisher of The Uni-Com Guide, HERE & NOW.

 LOTUS JOYNER: well-known biofeedback trainer, counselor, teacher, lecturer, researcher, and former nursery school owner. Currently working with doctors, psychologists, and psychiatrists in the Cosmic Awareness field.

GUEST SPEAKERS:

 DR. MARCEL VOGEL: internationally-known "Plant Man", a researcher working with plants and energy crystals. Each child will experience the inner space of plants, observing the life form of the plant. Marcel's process will teach the necessary steps required to communicate with nature as our forefathers have done in the past.

 SAMUEL EUGENE ZUCHSWERT: space engineering expert, currently doing research in the biofeedback field. Samuel will share his scientific views for the new age and will share with the children a space model shown at NASA, from the space model Lunar 13.

The workshop consists of four Sessions, ending with graduation.

- I The first session, given by Lotus, will teach the children several meditation techniques, where they will experience their higher selves and their connections and relationships to the Universe.
- II The second session moves into Cosmogenic Art, taught by Patricia, with each child receiving individual attention. Cosmogenic Art is a method of teaching creative inner-self awareness through the media of art. All work is done with the hands, and within a very short time anyone can learn to paint fascinating and beautiful pictures.
- III In the third session Marcel, Patricia, Lotus, and Samuel will all teach the creative exploration process. The children will work with minerals, plants, flowers, and energy molecules, and will experience their ability to create.
- IV In the fourth session, called "The Grand Tour", Patricia and Lotus will have the children experience the planet Earth and all other planets and galaxies in the Universe.

Parents are invited to attend the graduation from 4:30 to 5:30 PM. The children will share with the group what they have experienced during the workshop, and all present will gather for a closing ceremony.

Footnote: Each child will take home a beautiful Cosmogenic Art oil painting!

LOCATION: Co-op Supermarkets Meeting Room
164 California Ave., Palo Alto.

Workshop Fee: $30 per day.

AWARENESS TRAININGS DATES:

JULY 19, 1975

Editorial

Today we see a new pulse among all people, a vibration that pulls together, a new race-consciousness. We can see man himself, the highest expression on this earth, one with God through the medium of his life and it sees that his whole being faces through life itself. Today we are beginning to see that man can live in a perfect universe with perfect people and in perfect accord with situations and conditions with a knowing assurance that there is not a error in the "great spiritual plan of the cosmos".

As we begin to realize the plan set for this planet we can no longer hold onto our fixed ideas about people. As we begin to live the basic law that governs all laws, we see that we had to live in our past, to be where we are today, to move our future. As we reflect on this natural law and truth we begin a realization about ourselves and others with a new clarity and certainty, lacking blame and judgement.

Today the need is great for all groups, religions and people to support and encourage each other. From the natural law of abundance, I have seen people not accept that others may have what they desire. They do not perceive the truth of this law.

"God wants us to have joy, peace, abundance, and harmony in our lives." And only in forgetting this basic truth do we step back into the seat of fear, poverty and negations of ourselves and others.

Its so easy for us to pull down others when we feel that our life is not doing so well. How many times can each of us look back and see how we went into agreement with someones negative thoughts about others. Today the cry is that we are having bad times and I see so many pulling down others with these negative realities. If you feel poor - you will experience poverty. On the other side of the coin, I see many men and women and spiritual groups doing quite well. These people serve and are served. They have a winning consciousness and are positive and supportive of others. These people assist in raising the vibrations to a new level of spiritual attunement.

Today I see groups of people over this planet truly pleased that others are doing well and yet I also see those doing well, the first to blame and judge of those who are successful.

We must remember the basic law of abundance. We have truly a surplus of energy to meet scarcity. It is our God given right to experience success, abundance and joy. With this realization we can truly love and see God in all others.

Guilt is the other side of compassion. Its original purpose was to enable us to empathize on an "aware level", with ourselves and other members of creation, so that we can consciously control what was previously handled on a biological level alone. Guilt in that respect therefore has a strong natural basis, and when it is perverted, misused or misunderstood, it has that great terrifying energy of a runaway phenomenon.

If you think you are guilty because you have certain thoughts, then run particular risks, if you believe something is wrong then in your experience it will be, and you will consider it wrong or bad. Then you will collect an unnatural guilt, one that you do not deserve, but accept and so "create".

This law also applies to our pictures of others, often we hold on to a viewpoint about another person that may have seemed to apply from our viewpoint 10 years ago, or ten days ago, or ten hours ago. However right this moment you can change what you see about others and yourselves.

Each of us should make a concerted effort to experience and reflect back on the people and ideas we put in a certain box and left surrounded by our old pictures. A good exercise in spiritual growth is to recreate what we see about others and ourselves. I'm sure that if you look closely you will find love in all others. We create the universe just the way we are! Its a perfect mirror that does not lie. If you look for the bad in any situation or others you will be sure to find it! However if you make a practice at looking into the good side of things or people you will find the good! And also find a more positive world and surroundings. Its worth a try don't you think!

U.S. PRESIDENTS &

PSYCHIC EXPERIENCES

Kit Kenihen

Interest in and manifestations of Psychic Phenomena is certainly nothing new and most assuredly not to be credited to the Aquarian Age of Enlightenment. Neither does achievement to the highest office in the land, the Presidency of the United States, make anyone immune to a psychic experience. Many of our Presidents consulted Mediums and Psychics, and perchance the fate of an important bit of legislature or the strategy of a war game hung in the balance.

★ It is now a well-known fact that Jean Dixon, the world-renowned Washington Seer, was consulted frequently by Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Their psychic sessions together gave him the information that China would turn Communist, that, eventually, the United States and Russia would become allies against China, and that racial rioting would break out, increasing in violence and not decreasing until the year 1980. It was in November, 1944, that Jean Dixon was called to the White House by Roosevelt, and he had a very important question to ask her: "How long have I got to live?" Miss Dixon informed him in a most direct manner, "You have six months, less." True to her reading, five months later, Franklin Delano Roosevelt died in Warm Springs, Georgia, one year before the end of World War II.

★ President Lincoln was not a bit adverse to consulting mediums, and he also had visionary dreams. Lincoln dreamed his own death a week before it happened. A few days before Lincoln was assassinated, he told one of his friends about this dream he had in which he saw very clearly a funeral. "Who is dead in the White House?" he asked. "The President," came the answer. "The President is dead. He was assassinated." Lincoln had a great interest in psychic phenomena, and he participated in seances. He had an active interest in Spiritualism, and it has been rumored that some of his major decisions could be attributed to Spiritual guidance. Well, if the Emancipation Proclamation was one of them, more power to Lincoln's spiritual guides. There were many instances where Lincoln showed a degree of pre-cognition and did believe that his fate was ordained. In the year 1860, shortly after he was elected to the Presidency, he saw a double image of himself in the mirror. Lincoln interpreted this to mean that he would live safely through his first term in office but would not finish out his second. Of course, this proved to be correct.

★ The following is an account of the vision that George Washington had, which was recorded in the Woodstock, Ill., "Journal, June 27, 1861. The vision was related to Anthony Sherman on July 4th, 1859, by his orderly, who was then 91 years old. "After a preliminary conversation which lasted some half-hour Washington, gazing upon his companion with a strange look of dignity, which he alone could command, said to the latter:

"I do not know whether it was owing to the anxiety of my mind or what, but this afternoon as I was sitting at this very table, engaged in preparing a dispatch, something in the apartment seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, third and even a fourth time did I repeat the question, but I received no answer from my mysterious visitor other than a slight raising of her eyes. By this time I felt a strange sensation creeping through me; I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I essayed to address her, but my tongue had become paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily, vacantly, at my unknown visitant. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming filled with sensations and grew luminous everything around me appeared more airy and yet more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or, rather, to experience the sensations continued on page 14

The Secret Destiny Of America

JANUS

Bicentennial 1776-1976

Does America have a secret destiny? Thousands of years before Columbus set foot on these shores, was this fertile ground chosen to be the birth place of the enlightened society long dreamed of by the great classical philosophers? Is America a "New Atlantis" destined to lead the world in science, technology and enlightened self-government? Did ancient scholars and visionaries bind themselves together into secret, mystical fraternities, knowing that America would emerge as the land of their vision?

★ THE ORDER OF THE QUEST Man has joined together in societies and fraternities throughout the ages, some in secrecy for their own protection and containment. Those societies practicing their beliefs and principles in private were protected from the condemnation and persecution they would have received if their rites were public. And by maintaining secrecy, these societies could retain their policies, principles and systems of learning among a chosen few.

An early secret society, the Order of the Dionysian Artificers, was originally a group of skilled Greek and Syrian craftsmen who joined together to protect the secrets of their craft. Gradually architecture became the dominating influence, and members of the society gained the exclusive right throughout the Greek States to design the temples of the gods, government buildings, theaters of Dionysius and buildings used for public games.

The Dionysians held secret rites and worshipped the gods under geometric symbolism. They possessed a body of lore which included mathematical secrets of proportion and design, certain knowledge concerning universal dynamics, and a philosophical, religious, moral and political conviction concerning the perfection of society. The ignorant were referred to as uncut stones, unsuited to the purposes of building. Through refinement by self-discipline and the divine arts, man could perfect himself, thus becoming a cut stone which could fit with others into a pattern of masonry. In their secret societies, the Dionysians were building a human temple, a perfected human society. Each enlightened and perfected human being was a cut stone which, when fitted together with others, formed the temple building.

As Grecian culture reached Rome, the Latins formed their own Dionysian society, called the Collegia. One of the Collegians, Vitruvius, was responsible for the superior sanitation in Rome and the great aqueducts. While the Collegia of the Romans was less philosophical than the Grecian society, it exercised considerable social power and perpetuated the old beliefs.

With the coming of Christianity, pagan intellectuals were driven into greater secrecy. Pagan symbols became united with Christian, and the understanding of the symbolism was entrusted to a few initiates bound by vows of secrecy. Dionysians branched out and became the builders of mosques and palaces in Islam and cathedrals in Europe. They signed each stone with the secret symbols of their cult and wove old pagan figures and designs into church and chapel carvings.

The Illuminati formed in Italy. In northern Europe, there were the Knights of the Holy Grail. Christian and Jewish cabalists pondered the letters of the scriptures. The Rosicrucians used the Rose of Sharon as the symbol of brotherly love. In the 17th Century, Sir Elias Ashmole became the first non-craftsman to be permitted membership in the Order of Freemasons. All these groups belong to what is called The Order of the Quest. All were searching for the same thing under a variety of rituals and symbols -- a perfected social order, Plato's commonwealth, the government of the philosopher-king. Although architecture started as the chosen instrument, dedicated and visionary men moved into all the sciences and professions, bringing with them their commitment to perpetuate the Great Design, to build the perfect world.

Did representatives of the secret societies migrate to the colonies to bring their vision into being on virgin soil?

★ THE GREAT SEAL The Great Seal of the United States, unlike most national emblems, has two sides. The side bearing the pyramid is referred to as the reverse side, the eagle as the obverse side. Or was it intended to be an eagle?

According to Gaillard Hunt in THE HISTORY OF THE SEAL OF THE UNITED STATES, most of the designs originally submitted had the Phoenix bird on its nest of flames as the central motif. Earlier representations of the chosen seal bear a bird which more closely represents the fabulous Phoenix, a bird said by the ancients to live for 500 years at which time its body opens to allow a new-born Phoenix to emerge. The Phoenix represents immortality and resurrection and is one of the signs of the secret orders. An initiate was referred to as a man twice-born, or re-born. Those who became wise were considered to have been born again. Wisdom conferred a new life.

If the obverse side of the seal is stamped with the signature of the Order of the Quest, the reverse side is even more telling. The design here is the great pyramid of Gizeh, composed of 13 rows of masonry showing 72 stones. The pyramid has no capstone, and above the upper platform there is a triangle containing the All-Seeing Eye surrounded by rays of light. Harvard Professor Charles Eliot Norton complained that it looked like "a dull emblem of a Masonic Fraternity."

The mystical pyramid is a strange design to have been selected by struggling colonists -- farmers, shopkeepers and country gentlemen. It is more likely to assume that the origin for these symbols is the secret societies which came to this country 150 years before the Revolutionary War. A number of the patriots who achieved independence for America belonged to these societies and derived their inspiration, courage, and high purpose from the ancient teachings. For instance, Benjamin Franklin when journeying to France to receive high honors was also received by the Lodge of Perfection, the most famous of the French secret orders. His signature, written in the Lodge's ledger near that of the Marquis de Lafayette, bears witness to his visit.

The Great Seal of the United States

JANUS

Symbols are a universal language, crossing the boundaries of race, nationality and even our subconscious. In seeming contradiction, symbols are used both to facilitate communication, and also to conceal a particular meaning from the eyes of the uninitiated. The Great Seal of the United States incorporates within its design many of the profound truths of the philosophers and mystics of the ages.

In 1776, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams were appointed to devise a national emblem. Their efforts and those of a number of other contributors culminated six years later in the approval of the two-sided seal which is so familiar to us today. The two sides, unusual in most national emblems, signifies the dual nature of this nation -- a spiritual or soul side, and a physical or material side. The spiritual nature of the nation is represented by the obverse side of the seal, or the eagle; the physical by the reverse, or the pyramid.

THE OBLVERSE SIDE There are seven major elements -- the eagle, the crest, a shield, an olive branch, a cluster of arrows, a scroll, and a circular band.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE Eagles have long been a symbol of strength, courage and spiritual enlightenment. Universally recognized as the 'king of birds', the eagle has the keenest vision of any living creature and can look directly into the sun without damage to sight. When a storm is brewing, the eagle uses its great strength to soar high above it rather than seeking shelter or trying to fight or outrun it. Gold represents solar light, all that is superior, Divine Providence or God, the highest attainable. The golden eagle symbolizes the spiritual qualities and vision of this nation and the ability to rise above any storm by drawing on spiritual qualities.

ANCIENT SCIENCES

Bill Cox

Rediscovered

Despite apparent, negative influences we have to be living in an immensely important historical period. On every front we see the re-emergence of ancient knowledge: astrology, numerology, alchemy, divination, geomancy, form-energy, and the long-suppressed healing arts.

If recently published statistics are accurate, world knowledge doubled during the nineteen sixties. Through our present decade it is doubling every two and one-half years. The accumulation of all world knowledge in the nineteen eighties is expected to double every two and one-half months.

Technology, with all its astonishing growth and sense-appealing glamour, can be threatening. Those who resist change may find themselves with outdated occupations and overwhelmed in obsolescence. Technology has forced humanity to revise its attitude toward current and impending change. Speed reading and speed learning are no longer devices of the elite. We have already crossed the threshold where ready recall and quick evaluation are essential ingredients for social survival. A very important episode now unfolds. The world's populations confront us with the immediate choice of flowing in rhythm with the times or escaping into more primitive forms of existence--entering into rural, communal-type, or wilderness, living. Technology insists upon the "establishment" approach to economical survival--all or nothing at all. Both methods of living could well diminish in proportion to the increase in self-knowing as a new way of life, and perhaps that is the answer to outrageous technological advancement.

Machines continue to reduce the need for man to do physical work. Computers, already with us in abundance, are steadily lessening the need for man to think. Where will it lead? How can man/woman cope with the frustrations, tensions and futility imposed upon them by so-called progress? Skilled workers, housewives, and professional people, all classes of earners, from laborer to leader, feel the insecurities of our time. We watch the once-valuable dollar buy nothing while we spend it, and see it dissolve while we try to save it.

With exasperation comes hope. Aware people the world over; students of metaphysics, new-age religions, hierarchical teachings, eastern philosophies; the mystic, psychic, philosopher, spiritualist, meditator, and the UFO buff seek solace in new, or rediscovered, ancient knowledge, and they are finding it most comforting. And to be sure, they don't want to keep this elevated state of joy to themselves. On the contrary, they want to share it---and find few takers.

A very exciting phenomenon occurs to each initiate in the esoteric, occult, or mystical way of life. Either by degrees, or all at once, a certain security manifests, shielding the student from, at times, the frightening crunch of intellectual impositions crashing in on all sides. Once touched, the higher mind begins channeling through wisdom far above anything acquired by usual, external learning processes. This knowledge, of unlimited quantity and quality, becomes readily available to contemplators and meditators. Its essence overshadows ordinary thinking logic and the intellectually developed memory core.

An understanding of the esoteric sciences in their broader form, long forgotten as a practical matter, becomes necessary if man/woman is to come into awareness leading to real self-knowledge. Here we can turn to astrology to learn more about ourselves, one another, and the cosmos. This is not the ego-oriented astrology we read in the morning papers, but rather one inseparably tied to the Spiritual Sciences so often mentioned by Rudolf Steiner, Madame Blavatsky, and other great teachers of modern times. As a matter of interest, those who have, on numerous occasions, set out to discredit the validity of astrology have repeatedly become ardent supporters of this most marvelous ancient science.

In the field of divination (dowsing, radiesthesia, psychometry, and locating at a distance) I long ago reached the realization that these activities could only be understood by probing deeper into the mysteries of geomancy. This ancient art of divination was employed by the Druids which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think I did not reason; I did not move: all were alike, impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly, at my companion. Presently I heard a voice saying.

""Son of the Republic, look and learn!" While at the same time my companion extended her arms and forefinger eastward, I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance, rising fold upon fold. This gradually disappeared, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay, stretched out in one vast plain, all the countries of the world - Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw, rolling and tossing between Europe and America, the billows of the Atlantic and between Asia and America, the Pacific.

""Son of the Republic", said the mysterious voice as before, "look and learn."

"At that moment I beheld a dark shadowy being, like an angel, standing, or, rather, floating in mid-air between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he cast some upon America with his right, while he cast upon Europe some with his left. Immediately a dark cloud arose from each of these countries and joined in midocean. For a while it remained stationary and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning now gleamed throughout intervals, and I heard the smothered groans of the American people. A second time the angel dipped from the ocean and sprinkled it as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, into whose heaving waves it sank from view. A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying, ""Son of the Republic, look and learn." I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages, towns and cities springing up one after another, until the whole land from the Atlantic to the Pacific was dotted with them. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying, ""Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh - look and learn."

"At this time the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa I saw an ill-omened specter approaching our land. It flitted slowly and heavily over every village, town and city of the latter, the inhabitants of which presently set themselves in battle array, one against the other. As I continued looking I saw a bright angel on whose brow rested a crown of light, on which was traced the word Union, bearing the American flag, which he placed between the divided nation and said, ""Remember! ye are bretheren!" Instantly the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends once more and united around the national standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice, saying, ""Son of the Republic, the second peril is passed -- look and learn!" And I beheld the villages, towns and cities of America increased in saize and number, till at last they covered all the land from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and their inhabitants became as countless as the stars in heaven or the sand upon the seashore. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying, ""Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh, look and learn." At this the dark and shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth and blew three distinct blasts and, taking water from the ocean, sprinkled it out upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes looked upon a fearful scene! From each of these countries arose thick black clouds, which soon joined into one and through this mass gleamed a dark red light, by which I saw hordes of armed men who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by sea to America, which country was presently enveloped in the volume of the cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and pillage and burn the villages, cities and towns which I beheld springing up. As my ears listened to the thundering of cannon, clashing of swords and shouts and cries of a million in mortal combat I again heard the mysterious voice saying, ""Son of the Republic, look and learn,"

"When the voice had ceased the dark shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth and blew a long and fearful blast. Instantly a light, as from a thousand suns, shone down from above me and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment I saw the angel upon whose forehead still shone the word Union, and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descend from heaven, attended by legions of bright spirits. These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who I perceived were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately seemed to take courage, again closed up their ranks and

Numerically

Next year, in 1976, the United States of America will have been a nation for exactly two hundred years.

From the years 1776 to 1976 we have made great progress, and in researching the history books, I discovered that God was considered very much a part of the Government and our country during the year 1776. By contrast, I would like to point out the difference in the running of our country and family life, today, as we approach our Bicentennial, 1976. Doesn't God seem left out?

In Numerology, 1776 was a "3" year. United States of America also equals a "3". Three is a very strong number, and symbolizes strength, perfection, self-expression, success, and humanity. It also signifies UNITY, as symbolized by the three sides of the Triangle.

The men who planned our country were well acquainted with the teachings of Pythagoras. Pythagoras was the ancient Master of Numerology. Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and John Adams were Freemasons, and were acutely aware of the power of Numbers, and consistently worked with them. These men specifically chose July 4, 1776, as our country's birthdate. Pythagoras taught that "4" is the number of Justice, Freedom, and Friendship. In building our nation the "4" was used as a foundation, as in a building, in which there are usually 4 major corners to build upon.

In studying our country's history, the number "4" and "13" are very significant. Thirteen, added together, becomes "4", but a combination of "1" and "3" gives the "4" much added strength.

July, 1776, numerically, is a "5" day. One of the main attributes of "5" is Freedom.

1976, numerically, is a "5" year. It is my contention that the country will begin to have freedom from some of the oppressions we have been experiencing for the past several years. "5" is also a number of growth, success, and freedom of thought. However, it is an unpredictable number, and 1976 just might be unpredictable in respect to very quick changes.

On our 200-year birthday, we will be in a "5" year, and the "Declaration of Independence", as a group of words, equals a "5", numerically.

HOROSCOPE OF THE UNITED STATES

MARIS FLETCHER

The horoscope of the United States is based on the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on July 4th, 1776. The time of day used in this chart is that when all delegates except one placed their signatures on the document; 5:13 PM, showing the United States to be a Cancerian country with an Aquarian moon and the sign of Sagittarius rising. (See Insert)

The individuality of the country is therefore Sagittarius, the sign of expansion. In the 200 years since the nation was born the United States has known enormous growth in almost limitless areas. Charging forth with the optimism and the religious zeal of the Sagittarian, our forefathers blazed a path across unexplored frontiers, in geography, in science, in industry, in education, in medicine, and in the arts. Sagittarius, the salesman, has carried the word to the four corners of the earth and brought the U.S. to the fore in the world of business. Sagittarius, the "good luck" sign, has allowed the U.S. the protection of money, education, a belief in a higher power, and natural geographical barriers. The United States is the only country in the world that has participated in major world wars and yet suffered none of the battles on home territory.

The chart's moon placement indicates the country's personality to be that of airy, inventive Aquarius. Friendly and humanitarian, the populace possesses a tendency to want to reform the rest of the world before it takes care of its own; it also possesses a desire to be liked by everyone and yet can be strangely aloof and detached as only an Aquarian can be.

The United States Sun Sign, Cancer, reveals the underlying ego and motivation beneath the more obvious Sagittarian and Aquarian qualities. Shrewd and a bit of an opportunist, the Cancerian puts himself down and worries to a fault. Basically motivated by emotional insecurity, the virtues of home, apple pie, mother, and country are extolled. A cancerian reverts the past and deals with crises by first turning his back on them, and later, by using historical precedent as a guideline. The cancerian desires peace above all but will fight in order to protect home and family.

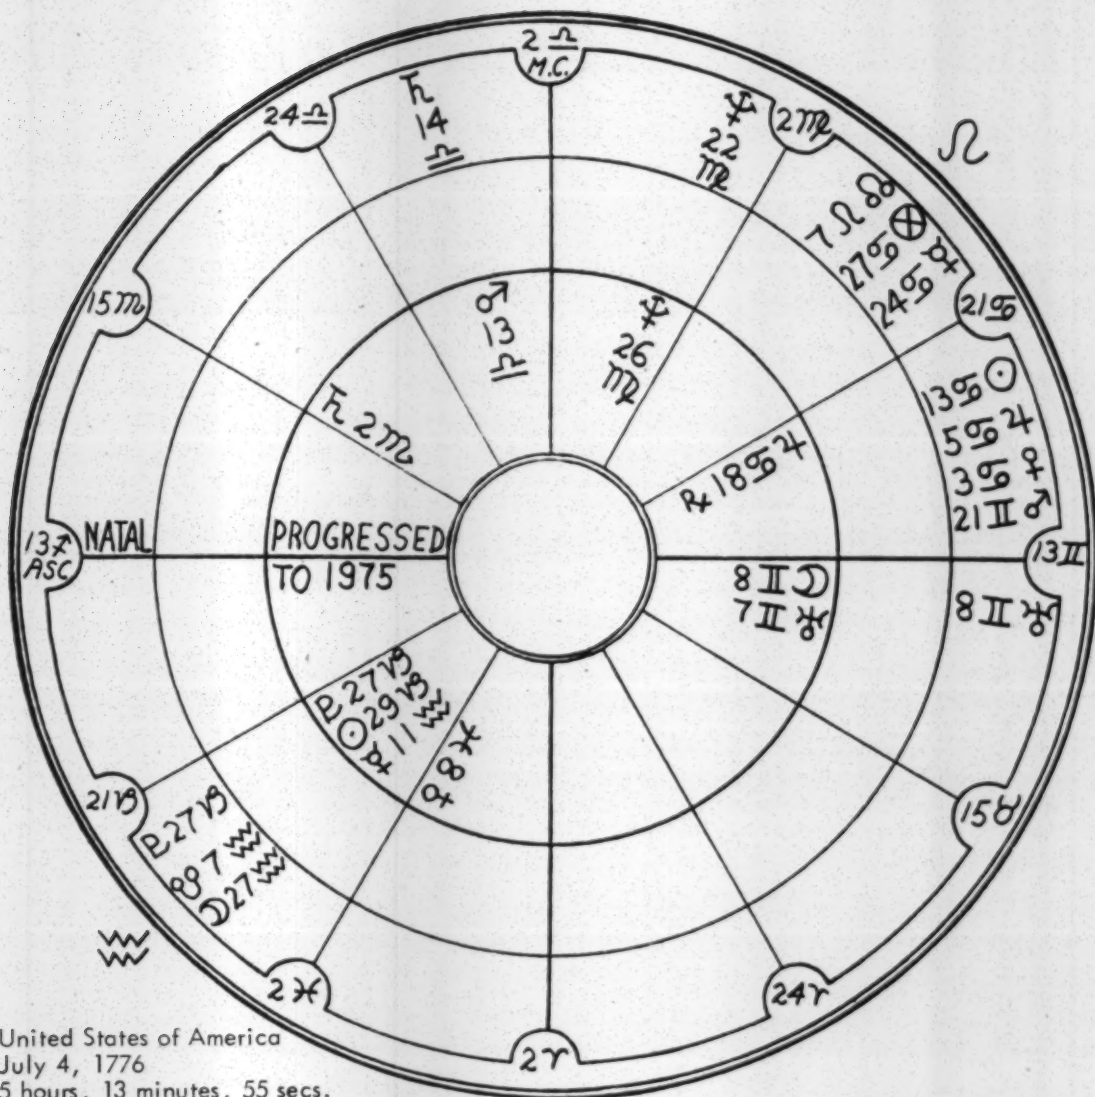

The qualities and traits described above are those making up national character. They do not change. The United States will retain this personality until the day it no longer exists.

Many modifying factors exist, however. As various cycles peak and decline, certain latent traits and qualities emerge. The chart for the 200th anniversary year of the United States indicates a new and exciting change is imminent. In 1976 the character of the country begins a new cycle: in Aquarius. How logical that the country which leads the world should also lead it toward the new age to come (on or near 2076): the age of Aquarius.

Aquarius traditionally is a sign which is not money-oriented. However, the next 100 years will see the United States becoming more affluent than ever, and yet, balancing the ever-present conflict between contraction and expansion. An emergency situation exists at the moment. In the wake of the financial and political crises in the country before its next birthday, three years will be needed to adjust totally to the broad gap between recession and inflation. Once the people quit deluding themselves once again prosperity will reign.

Certain events in the political arena and the power struggle which emerges will slowly turn the mood of the country from the strong-father-protector image to that of group leadership. A growing belief in the rule by many will orient the country more and more toward first, the Senate and House, then a national council, then a world council which eventually will rule the new age. The death of a prominent political leader in 1976 is but one indicator of this beginning trend.

The horoscope of the U.S. implies this country serves as the bridge between one age and another. The past orientation of the Cancerian, the future orientation of the Aquarian, and the far-ranging insights of the Sagittarian have served this purpose well. According to the charts, America has fulfilled its destiny for two-thirds of the way. One-third is left.

From its orientation toward the past, the national emphasis has begun to turn toward the future. History will be revered less for its own sake and more for understanding cycles in human behavior. The emphasis upon air travel and space, computers and electro-magnetism will mushroom. New breakthroughs will be made in the field of medicine, using new and unusual methods. Surgery as its known now will become almost obsolete due to inventions and innovations using electro-magnetism.

Ironically, the country is currently turning its back on the major crisis of the coming century. It's said about Aquarius that he could, while gazing at an intriguing cloud in the sky, wade through a mud puddle, later wondering from where he had picked up the dirt on his shoes. While gazing into outer space, the people of the United States are spoiling earth they walk upon. Procrastination will force crucial measures concerning the environment; resourcefulness and being at their best in emergencies will see the people through.

Towards Aquarius is where the country is headed. Towards new breakthroughs in the fields of science and medicine. Towards space and the power of magnetism. Towards understanding and the brotherhood of man.

A Bermuda Triangle

Report

Reprinted with permission from the Pyramid Guide,

July-August, 1975.

Dr. Ray Brown simulates the Crystal holding position of metallic appearing arms and hands suspending the Crystal Ball he brought to surface from the undersea Atlantic, pyramid room several years ago. The confounding artifact may have waited countless centuries in some ceremonial attitude before the diver removed it in 1968, and who is now prompted to publically reveal his closely held secret.

STRANGE, SHADOW-LIKE PYRAMIDS SEEN IN ATLANTIC CRYSTAL BALL

Early in March, 1975, Dr. Ray Brown, Mesa, Arizona Naprapath, publicly revealed for the first time his extraordinary discovery of a perfectly formed crystal sphere, with shadow-graph appearing pyramids, found within a greater Monolithic Pyramid in the center of the Bermuda Triangle in 1968.

Brown, one of the five seasoned treasure and artifact divers operating for several years off the Florida coast, displayed his remarkable, sub-sea object at the Phoenix Psychic Seminar. Spectator responses there continued the unusual chain of physical and mental reactions to the presumed pre-history oracle. Energies from the crystal seem to direct their rays toward the solar-plexus and brow centers of some observers, with no dire consequences, but certainly shock-life effects.

Several factors associated with the luminous, transparent ball, suggest it may focus and project force-fields quickly perceived by psychically aware observers. Dr. Brown purposely withheld information on his find due to many bizarre circumstances before, during and after his encounter with the artifact, retrieved from a ninety-foot high pyramid in twenty-two fathoms of water beneath the Atlantic surface.

Brown and his cohorts were well aware of the dangers associated with their underwater searches for sunken, spanish galleons, and usually elusive treasures. "There's an ever prevailing presence of danger lurking near the occupants of smaller craft navigating throughout the so-called triangle area," said Brown. After diving on a schedule through the 1960's the Arizona adventurer concluded; "people alone in this area of the Atlantic are often fearful of Cuban artifact pirates, sharks, water too hot or too cold for diving, international restrictions and there's always the 'Bermuda Warp'".

After studying Spanish Archives for sign of possible treasure-laden shipwrecks, the diving crew occasionally found success and had in fact, supplied some important museums with artifacts, including Inca art treasures, gold cats with emerald eyes, and other gems of antiquity brought up from the atlantic deeps. They towed a magnetometer behind their boat and worked with sensing devices on board. Once chartered, likely diving locales were pinpointed with a floating marker. An earlier designated spot drew renewed interest, so Brown and two other divers slipped over the side, alert for signs of unusual shapes, hopefully leading to a worthy find.

On this particular day, Dr. Brown, in his descent, noticed the ordinarily clear sea was now somewhat opaque with unsettled sediments, recently stirred by the outer rim of a passing hurricane. He had difficulty in seeing more than a few feet ahead. Presently, located at a greater depth, the searching diver looked upward through the murky water to see strong beams of sunlight outlining what appeared to be an Egyptian-like pyramid. The huge stone structure loomed some ninety feet from the ocean floor. The astonished fortune hunter wondered if it was a trick of his imagination, or was he really seeing the great stone form he thought it to be? It was a strange scene, said Brown, "This monolithic structure emerging from an ocean shelf in some hundred and thirty feet of water." He had no idea how much more of the pyramid remained concealed beneath the visible sea bottom. He noted the polished marble-like surface on the monument, entirely free of the usually expected, coral encrustation found on unmoving underwater objects.

The now electrified diver swam around the pyramid some distance below the topstone, apparently fashioned out of Lapiz Lazuli or similar material. On his third pass around the colossal form, he was surprised to see a large, doorless opening, unobserved in his other two approaches around the four sides. Without hesitation, Brown entered the room-sized chamber with a pyramid-peaked ceiling. His light source flashed on stone walls inscribed with swastika symbols. Seven stone seats - one slightly elevated - bordered the rectangular structured walls of the chamber.

SEANCE, with REV. JOY ADAMS.
As a result of her highly-popular and in-demand "Everybody Is a Psychic" Workshop in May at the Metaphysical Center, Rev. Adams is holding Seances on a regular basis at the Center. If you have always wondered about them or wanted to participate, this is your opportunity. Rev. Adams is a medium, and will offer a controlled seance for your participation. She requests that participants have a super-positive attitude and be open-minded. Negativity is definitely a no-no. Also participants must be prepared for anything to happen--strange happenings are commonplace at seances. The purpose of this seance (as with all pursuits at The Metaphysical Center) is to encourage positive psychic development and understanding. Rev. Adams will prepare the participants before the seance begins. Fee, $5, and advanced registration is encouraged.

WORLD CITIZENS ASSEMBLY - - - - The people of Earth have become interdependent with each other and with nature through the applications of technology. Today no person or place is secure from the multiple dangers which beset this planet, while the means are at hand, through cooperative efforts, to make it a GOOD place to live. THE CHALLENGE IS CLEAR!
- To meet this challenge the WORLD CITIZENS ASSEMBLY is convening in San Francisco on the 30th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations-- so that individuals who are concerned about the state of the Earth may come together and, without rejecting other loyalties, join their resources, hopes and affections in a common effort: ORGANIZING TO BUILD A WORLD COMMUNITY in which people and nature--now interdependent--can live together in harmony.
- Location: San Francisco State University Campus, 1600 Holloway, San Francisco. For agenda details and registration forms, send to: World Citizens Assembly, P.O. Box 2063, San Francisco, Ca. 94126.

THE ANALYSIS OF TIME IN ASTROLOGICAL CHARTS, by BRYAN WITTINE.
Astrology is a guide to the cycles in our lives. Our birth charts represent our seed-potentials, but progressions and transits reveal the time sequence, the schedule of operations, by which we actualize and give birth to our potentials. In this 3-evening seminar we will study the rhythm of our self-unfolding through techniques used mainly to predict the future. We will graph the process of psycho-spiritual development and view our pinnacles and tidal patterns in our lives. For advanced students and astrological practitioners. $12 fee for the Series, on three consecutive Fridays---Aug. 8, 15, & 22.

CLOPPER ALMON on THE CHYMICAL WEDDING OF CHRISTIAN ROSENKREUTZ. The meaning of "The Chymical Wedding of Christian Rosenkreutz"; In extraordinary picture language, this oldest, most profound of Rosicrucian writing describes the initiation of the movement's founder. This new type of initiation gave Rosenkreutz the ability to develop a new path to the spirit, which modern man can use, rather than avoid the challenges of our present world. To the puzzling scenes of this remarkable document, this talk will offer keys to open these scenes to the eye of an attentive reader.

Brown's eyes must surely have danced when they focused upward on a two inch plus, diameter shaft projecting downward from the peaked ceiling, obviously trained upon the pedestal mounted forms, poised waist high below. Metallic appearing arms rose up out of the stone platform with hands directed upward in the manner of semi-application, both gently holding the amazing, spherical crystal artifact. The bewildered diver reasoned he had certainly swum into the distant past, the culmination of an earlier traumatic experience where he temporarily left his body for an unscheduled trip into the Cosmos following a near-fatal diving accident in the Atlantic in 1968.

Now quickly arousing from his reverie and awareness of a lost time-sense, Brown became immediately conscious of an ominous presence. Perhaps thinking the mysterious opening, which had eluded him during his explorations around the pyramid before entry might now close upon him, the excited diver suddenly decided to abandon that very strange space, and on impulse, quickly plucked the crystal ball from between the yielding, upright metallic hands.

Finally, returning to the boat, Dr. Ray Brown decided not to reveal the import of his find until he had time for further reflection upon the significance of his chimerical episode. The other divers also brought up what they believed to be peculiar, inoperable electronic devices of unexplained origin.

Dr. Brown, long familiar with the vagaries of government attitude and laws applying to discoveries of value in international waters, decided to keep his crystal ball encounter a secret. "Once the artifacts are confiscated," he said, "you go to court, maybe after you've won your case a few years later, the treasure has strangely disappeared." Besides, Brown heeding the sinister warning, intuitively imparted that memorable day, decided never to return to the site, and to further await guidance from within as to the implied humanitarian potential connected with his find.

Thus, in March, 1975, we were privileged to witness Dr. Ray Brown's unveiling of the classic, Atlantean Crystal. A few people reacted physically and some psychically to the noble object as mentioned before. We sensed inexpressible feelings toward the exquisite orb; as though it was some form of communicative device - perhaps still on signal - beaming and receiving cosmically imposed properties beyond our comprehension to translate. Dr. Brown sees a possible link between the natural, geometrically shaped, hexagonal crystal, and the spherically, hand-formed crystal ball.

Disobeying a previous pact to heed the intuitional warning not to return to the sea pyramid site, three of the five original divers are no longer alive, a blood-chilling omen. They all met death in diving accidents, their empty boats were found drifting aimlessly in the silent, untelling Atlantic.

"I See For You"

Ques. What are the meanings of the changes in the energies that many of us are feeling (tiredness, exhaustion)? Does it have anything to do with the eclipse? How do we handle it?

Louis: An eclipse signifies what might be termed a new dispensation, a new chapter in the Grand Drama of human events. Since individuals comprise that Grand Drama, their individual patterns are affected by this newness. Consequently, they might find themselves a bit dis-associated and are struggling to maintain a past vibrational pattern. The secret in all this is to let go, release that which has been and build up an inner expectancy of that which is manifesting itself. The world, in toto, is entering into a time of realism. We have gotten so caught up in this plastic age that the time is at hand for Realism. Many are aware of the fact that we are undergoing a Spiritual Renaissance with a resultant change in energies, and our values will not be based so much on a one-day religious experience. Rather, this Golden Age that we are involved in will be one in which our religion becomes a 24-hour, day after day Way of Life.

Q. I have acted as a T.V. talk show hostess in the Bay Area. It was highly successful, but it was only a short contract. I am highly qualified for this field. Do you see success in this career for me? (Kit)

L. First, you must remove yourself from the mainstream and become the glittering gem that you really are. You have allowed yourself to become too much a part of the mass and, thus, you are not being noticed. The days ahead open tremendous promise for great success in your field, but you must meet these challenges, not as a topaz but, rather, as a sparkling diamond.

Q. I am graduating from high school in June and am drawing a blank as to where I am going careerwise. I am not interested in college and don't know what to do. Please advise. (Cher)

L. I feel that you yet need training, perhaps not in the realm of academia but, rather, in terms of a specialty school that prepares people for a specific vocation. You are a very creative young lady and I feel that you would be successful in the area of fashion design, either from the merchandising aspect or the creative envisionment. Up to this point in your life you have listened to others. It is now time to go within and listen to that small voice that resides within your Totality.

Q. How can New Age people help to expand and awaken others?

L. The best way you expand the awareness of others is, first, to be such a shining example that others will want to follow your way of life. So many New Age people tend to think that it is only they that are on the path when, in essence, every human being on this planet Earth is on the path in his own way. Should we want others to follow our awareness pattern, we must first make our way so appealing that others will want what we perhaps have. In the days ahead the people who have established their inner Reality will be the most fortunate for much of the manifestations will be so restructured that they will have difficulty in coping. We live in perhaps one of the most exciting times in history, a time of rapid patterns that will change as rapidly as they form. No longer can we look to the good old days nor can we be overly concerned about the tomorrow but, rather, our concern will be living in the Now, in the Newness that we have spoken of but done little about.

Q. What do you see for the country for the next 6 months?

- L. As many people know, the United States is undergoing tremendous changes. Some of them are very subtle and others are more blatant. It is all part of a new consciousness that is coming into manifestation, call it Golden Age or what you will. It represents a new way of thinking, of doing, and perceiving the world about individuals and groups of individuals. There is an interest today in metaphysical subjects that has not been so for many years. There are metaphysical groups in every city in the United States....people are very concerned about returning to a natural way of eating and doing things....we are very concerned about pollution, not only from an environmental point of view, but from a total lifestyle point of view. The next six months will bring a somewhat seesaw pattern on all levels, but from this comes change and growth.

renewed the battle. Again, amid the fearful noise of the conflict, I heard a mysterious voice saying: ""Son of the Republic, Look and learn." ""As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly, the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the villages, towns and cities springing up where they had been before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried in a loud voice to the inhabitants, ""While the stars remain and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the Republic last." ""And taking from his brow the crown on which blazed the word Union, he placed it upon the standard, while all the people, kneeling, said "Amen!" The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve and I saw nothing but the rising, curling white vapor I had first beheld. This also disappearing, I found myself once more gazing upon my mysterious visitor, who in the same mysterious voice I had heard before said: ""Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted three perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful is the second, passing which, the whole world united shall never be able to prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his hand and Union."

"With these words the figure vanished. I started from my seat and felt that I had been shown the birth, progress and destiny of the Republic of the United States. In Union she will have her strength, in disunion her destruction."

"Such, my friends," continued the venerable narrator, "were the words I heard from Washington's own lips, and America will do well to profit by them. Let her remember that in Union she has strength, in disunion is her destruction."

★ James Garfield, as President, consulted spiritualists, Margaretta and Katie Fox, to conduct a seance so that he might get in touch with his dead father. This was in 1854. Sixteen other people attended the seance, and the spirits were asked to communicate by rapping. Garfield claimed to have gleaned much information concerning his dead father and his two brothers, one living and one dead, from this rapping session. Garfield wrote about this in a diary, and the diary entries remain on display in the Library of Congress cases. Also, in the year 1854, a psychic named Mrs. Laurie claimed to have penned, in "automatic writing", a letter directly from the deceased President Andrew Jackson to Maj. Benjamin B. French.

★ Lastly, but certainly not leastly, the chance coincidences between the lives of John F. Kennedy and Abraham Lincoln could set one's mind stirring to thoughts of reincarnation. Their paths were parallel in far too many instances, both during their lifetimes and after their deaths. Each assassination was foretold. Each, seeming to sense his own tragic role in world history, made prophetic statements prior to his death.

All of this is of historical value, and definitely points out that interest in the occult and association with it is obviously nothing new and has played a great part in the men who made history, and in history itself.

and earlier civilizations back beyond the chronology of books. Geomancy in its purest form enabled the geomancer to gain information from nature far in excess of the limited five senses. This was accomplished through certain knowledge of the Spiritual Sciences, faith, intuition, and a kind of psychic or cosmic attunement with all life. But the Geomancer's abilities always developed out of self-remembering and self-knowledge: "Man, know Thyself."

A qualified geomancer--with or without instruments--senses the electro- and magnetic vectors in the earth. He perceives their crossing, vortices, and upthrusts issuing from the earth's great network of earthquake faults. These natural conduits of subtle, but powerful, earth rays guide flying birds, lost animals, and migrant creatures from zone-to-zone over our planet. The geomancer divines precise locations for the construction of pathways, buildings and the planting of trees. When vegetation is located a few feet off line or intersection a pygmy results, and its fruit lacks nutrition, fragrance, and flavor. Vitalized edibles thrive in precise locations determined by the skilled geomancer where planting is guided by intuition and clairsentience.

Man, somewhere back in time, messed up by trying to separate science, religion, and philosophy. Essence study, the true basis for our highest, scientific, human expression, was somehow lost.

Alchemy of supreme quality depends first upon self-transmutation of the alchemist. He must be purified through a difficult series of self-disciplines before attempting to turn base metals into gold. Sense-directed man, striving to attain this goal, and, through limited physical means, trying to imitate the earlier masters, got nowhere with his ore mixtures and melting pots. Technology has gone far in producing synthesized diamonds, rubies, and emeralds. Still, man-manufactured, quality gold eludes the most advanced techniques. The purest seed gold develops its essence by powers directed from within the consciousness of the spiritual alchemist. This may seem like nonsense in the realms of physical sciences, but it is a reality to initiates and masters of higher teachings. Manly Hall once suggested that if man realized the awesome powers he held within, he could become potentially the most dangerous creature in the universe.

We can only conjecture by and through whose thought the phenomenon of alchemical power over minerals originated in the minds of prehistory, Divine Beings. These, our ancestors of divinity consciousness, were highly realized individuals, in states of awareness we can aspire to; for this essence of power is also within us, waiting to push through into human expression.

Replicas of the Great Pyramid and other imposing shapes, such as spheres, cones, cubes, cylinders, hemispheres, and similar geometric forms, definitely produce pronounced effects upon organisms. These forms even create dramatic changes in so-called inanimate (non-organic) substances. With some twenty years of research and experiments left by the late Dowsing mentor, Verne Cameron, and my own file generated by the Pyramid Guide Newsletter, I'm totally convinced these forms are accumulator-generators of the finest energies manifesting on our planet. The list of phenomena, particularly associated with pyramid replicas, boggles the mind and continues to unfold in greater proportions daily. Form energy's future is already here. All we have to do is put to work these quite amazing harmony crystals--materialized patterns of God's perfection.

Psychic, metaphysical, and Divine (consciousness) healings dwell in the essence levels of higher life energies. The quality and balance of vibrations involved in these healings attest to a spectrum outside the scope of the intellectual, rational mind. In non-physical healings, that is, without the use, of drugs, surgery and radiation, we see evidence of altered time flow, materialization, de-materialization, almost immediate chemicalization, and an incomprehensible overcoming of known physical laws. Healings of this nature occur in elevated states of consciousness that cannot be compared with the tricky but often effective placebo effect. Healing energies develop from within the patient and spiritual healer in harmony with natural cosmological laws. But final action comes when the patient accepts the healing change in consciousness and holds it there with conviction. He is the healer in the final analysis.

We are no longer socially structured so that a continued separation of all useful knowledge can continue. Individual and group consciousness is now a planetary proposition. Our future well-being, and possibly survival, depends on our realization of one-to-one in the universal oneness.

Conscious intellect is only adjunct to the greater outpicturing of spiritual science and wisdoms of all times. Secret knowledge of the ages ever stands poised and pushing upward from the depths of our minds. Through meditation and contemplation these inner wisdoms easily flow into greater awareness through the quagmire of conscious intellectual activity. The evident, past-trip memory bank is forever subject to change, reversal, or may be regularly abandoned entirely in favor of daily new innovations. Thirty-year-old astronomy books, for example, the last word in their time, are already unreliable references according to present astronomical data.

All wisdom rising from the well-springs of Divine Consciousness, seated in the minds of each of us, though not fully expressed, embraces all true knowledge. It is the akashic, the encyclopedic realm of immediate, future memory. Cosmic memory remains constantly true and unchanging. If most all technology and current knowledge were suddenly erased from the earth in one giant, cataclysmic upheaval, it would only be a matter of time before the descendants of those few survivors would have it all back again. The akashic is inevitably restored through the aware intuitional minds of men and women everywhere.

True knowledge, as wisdom, originates in essence from the word of God, and manifests as the joy of discovery and rediscovery. Old or new, thought and form materializes in our three-dimensional world out of the akashic memory, mind, and the spiritual vehicles of Enlightened Beings.

Here is a book as complex and individual as you are. It's not light reading because it's your life, your astral biography, from the details of your inner feelings to your outermost ambitions.

Sun-Moon polarity, as the connection between conscious drives and unconscious feelings, is discussed at great length.

The ascending sign and its rulership position is interpreted as your personality, as your approach to life. Each house of the zodiac is described in terms of planets, rulerships and aspects.

This is not a vague report based on generalities. From your exact time, day, year and place of birth our IBM 370-155 sorts out 24,000,000 bits of astrological information. The result is a 12,000 word personal biography revealing secrets that even your closest friends would not dare talk about.

How is this possible? An astrologer does basically the same thing, but it takes longer and costs more. The computer is simply a memory bank. Only the information that applies to you and only you is drawn from the bank.

All this is yours for only $10. It's the best buy there is in computerized horoscopes. Plus a money back guarantee if your Astral Portrait isn't what you expected.

Think of it as a reference book, to be studied from time to time. We've got the best available, anywhere, at anytime... and at any price.

The Pyramid of Gizeh was believed by ancient Egyptians to be the shrine tomb of the god of Universal Wisdom, Thoth. No trace has ever been found of a capstone for the great pyramid. This is appropriate, for the Pyramid represents human society itself, imperfect and incomplete. The structure's ascending, converging angles and faces represent the common aspiration of mankind. The symbol of the esoteric orders floats above the pyramid -- the radiant triangle with its all-seeing eye. The triangle itself is in the shape of the Greek letter D, the first letter of the name of God -- the divine part of nature completing the works of men. The pyramid is the Universal house, and above its unfinished apex is the radiant emblem of the Great Architect of the Universe.

There is a legend that there was a great university in Atlantis where arts and sciences were taught, the origin of present-day knowledge. The University was in the form of an immense pyramid with many galleries and corridors, and at the top there was an observatory to study the stars. This temple to the sciences in the old Atlantis is shadowed forth in the seal of the new. Was it the society of secret philosophers who sealed the new nation with the eternal emblems, that all nations might know the purpose for which the new country had been founded? A more detailed interpretation of the Great Seal is included in a separate article in this issue.

★ THE GOLDEN FLEECE One of the most ancient of man's ideals is the dream of a universal democracy and a cooperation of all nations in a commonwealth of States. The mechanism for the accomplishment of this ideal was set in motion in the ancient temples of Greece, Egypt and India. Greek mythology perpetuates the knowledge of a blessed land beyond the Western bounds of the ocean, set aside by the gods to be an earthly paradise. Here in the fullness of time, all men would come in search of the Golden Fleece.

The Greeks knew that the Golden Fleece was in reality a parchment on which was written the secret of human immortality. It was this parchment that Jason sought, for whoever discovered it would gain the secret of enduring empire and power over the whole world. In America, we have a Golden Fleece -- the Declaration of Independence. It is a magic formula of human hope. Those who understand it and can use its writings wisely have the secret of an immortal human society.

INSTRUMENTS It has been said that members of the secret orders appear inconspicuously and unobtrusively throughout the ages to carry forward the works and vision of their society. In 1937, a little book was published entitled CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS WAS A GREEK. According to its author, Spyros Cateras, the real name of Columbus was Prince Nikolaos Ypsilantis, and he came from the Greek Island of Chios. The statement is backed by quotations from numerous early historians and documents. Another story has it that the famed Columbus was actually Colon. Then, too, there is a tale of a dim figure involved in the life of Columbus, a strange man who served the explorer in the capacity of counselor. It is hinted that this mysterious stranger accompanied Columbus on his first voyage, but did not return. This mysterious stranger is reminiscent of the black-robed man who guided the destiny of Mohammed. Were these obscure figures ambassadors of the secret government?

Robert Allen Campbell in 1890 published a little book called OUR FLAG, or THE EVOLUTION OF THE STARS AND STRIPES. It ends with a quotation from Bacon, which may mean that it was written under the auspices of the Order of the Quest. One of their rules was that each book published under the authority of the society be marked in some peculiar way easily recognizable by the informed. Sir Francis Bacon was a member of the society.

In Chapter 2 of OUR FLAG, it recites that the Colonial Congress appointed Benjamin Franklin, Lynch and Harrison in the fall of 1775 to consider and recommend a design for a Colonial Flag. The committee traveled to Cambridge, Mass., to consult General Washington. While at Cambridge, they were entertained by a patriotic and well-to-do citizen who at that time had another house guest -- an old gentleman called the Professor. He was beyond seventy years of age, but apparently in the prime of his life. His diet consisted of cereals, well ripened fruit, nuts, tea and honey. He drank no liquor, wine or ale. When the Professor was introduced, Benjamin Franklin stepped forward with apparent recognition. Dr. Franklin invited the stranger to become a member of the committee. The story runs that it was the Professor, an opportune stranger, who suggested the design of the Colonial Flag, which was accepted without modification.

Again, a fortuitous stranger affected the course of this nation. Faced with the death penalty for high treason, the Founding Fathers were locked in a long debate in the State House at Philadelphia. A voice rang out from the balcony. After a burst of eloquence from an unknown speaker, the delegates rushed forward to sign what was to become the Declaration of Independence. When the delegates turned to thank the speaker, he was gone. The chamber doors were bolted and guarded.

Intervention in internal affairs has not always come through human agents. As reported in the Portland (Maine) EVENING COURIER of March 8, 1862, General McClellan fell asleep over his maps to have the strangest dream. George Washington appeared to him, telling him that his plans for battle had been betrayed. "And had God not willed otherwise, ere the sun of tomorrow had set, the Confederate flag would have waved above the Capitol and your own grave. But note what you see. Your time is short."

McClellan saw troop positions that would save the day for the Republic. When he awoke, his maps were covered with the marks, signs and figures that he had seen during his dream. He had his horse saddled and rode from camp to camp making the necessary changes in his strategy to meet the enemy's planned offensive. His moves were successful, and he prevented the capture of the city of Washington.

PROPHECIES The first edition of the PROPHECIES OF NOSTRADAMUS was published in 1660. The old seer refers to this country under several names -- Hisparides, the Blessed Isles of the West. In another place he simply names it America. And his third designation of it is the Land Which Keeps the Thursday. He saw that a great civilization would rise in the western world. This civilization would free itself from the bonds to its mother country, and then assume a free place among the temporal powers. The new country would flourish and extend its domain across the entire continent. It would grow rich and powerful, he predicted and live at peace with its sister (Canada). America, he said, would have to fight several wars, including one with the Orient. This conflict he described as an eagle flying against the rising sun. Nostradamus foretold that America would become a great power in a pattern of world peace and would be looked up to by other nations for leadership against the common evils of the time.

Man has dreamed visions of a new civilization which would be formed on the foundation of peace, brotherhood and justice for all, justice springing from just men and just government. Utopias have been written about, and some tried. Has America been chosen to be the land of a new reality?

In General McClellan's dream, George Washington appeared with these words: "But her (America's) mission will not then be finished for ere another century shall have gone by, the oppressors of the whole earth, hating and envying her exaltation, shall join themselves together and raise up their hands against her. But if she still be found worthy of her high calling they shall surely be discomfited, and then will be ended her third and last great struggle for existence. Thenceforth shall the Republic go on, increasing in power and goodness, until her borders shall end only in the remotest corners of the earth, and the whole earth shall beneath her shadowing wing become a Universal Republic. Let her in her prosperity, however, remember the Lord her God, her trust be always in Him, and she shall never be confounded."

Hall, Manly P. THE SECRET DESTINY OF AMERICA. Los Angeles: Philosophical Research Society, Inc. 1972.

The eagle holds its head proudly erect, and so can the nation because its spiritual ideals are valid. The wings are outstretched as a symbol of spiritual alertness and religious freedom. The single eye represents singleness of purpose and creative vision. The nine tail feathers control its direction of flight and are three times three, or the complete image of the spiritual, mental and physical worlds. Nine is also an ancient symbol for truth. The nation's spiritual direction and guidance are controlled by truth, and it is aware of its place in the mental, physical and spiritual worlds of the universe.

THE SHIELD The three elements of the shield are a horizontal field of blue, seven white vertical stripes and six red vertical bars. These three elements symbolize authority, power and trust. The reverse of the flag, the seven white stripes symbolize the predominance of spiritual faith and principles over courage (red stripes). The shield protects the heart and vital organs of the eagle.

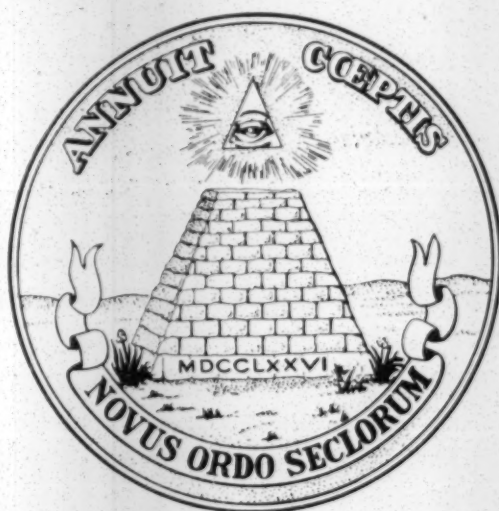

THE OLIVE BRANCH The eagle holds an olive branch in its right talon, symbolizing its direction. It has thirteen olive berries and thirteen leaves. The number thirteen represents the unity and combined spiritual strength of the original states. The berries are spiritual abundance, the leaves fertility associated with peace of mind.

THE CLUSTER OF ARROWS In its left talon, the eagle holds thirteen arrows. The arrow symbolizes rays of the sun, the masculine or virile principle, and supreme power. The left or sinister talon refers to the sinister aspects of the unseen. The virility and strength of the spiritual nature of this nation, although endowed with supreme power, is subject to weakening forces (weakness of purpose, ideals and spiritual understanding).

THE SCROLL The scroll, a symbol for knowledge and understanding, is supported in the eagle's beak (wisdom). The Latin motto E PLURIBUS UNUM, 'out of many, one', is composed of thirteen letters. The scroll is unencumbered and waving freely.

THE CREST The highest position in the design of the Great Seal is given to the crest, or glory, because it is the symbol for the highest spiritual ideal of the nation. It is composed of a circle of etheric clouds, a burst of light and thirteen stars. The clouds of materiality are rolled back by a beautiful burst of light, exposing the constellation of stars. Light is a symbol for spiritual illumination and wisdom, morality, virtue, culture, high principles and ideals, and understanding. A shining star is the symbol for the emergence of understanding over ignorance. The individual stars have five points and collectively are arranged to geometrically form a star. The stars individually and collectively have much significance.

CIRCULAR BAND Encompassing the six other elements is a circular band. A circle does not have a beginning nor an end, therefore representing all that is eternal. It is a symbol for perpetual life, perfection, completeness, harmony, intelligent organization, equality and balance.

THE REVERSE SIDE The reverse side of the Great Seal also contains seven basic elements -- the pyramid, the capstone, ANNUIT COEPTIS, scenic background, scenic foreground, NOVUS ORDO SECLORUM, and another circular band.

THE PYRAMID One of the most durable and strongest structures known to man, the pyramid represents the people, wherein lies the true strength and endurance of the nation. The thirteen rows of stone blocks forming the pyramid signify the union. The Roman numerals at the bottom are the year 1776, when the nation was founded. All sides are of equal proportion, symbolizing equality of opportunity. The heights to which one may aspire are not limited. There is no capstone attached -- the nation is still building. Its history is not complete.

THE CAPSTONE The three sides of the capstone represent the three branches of self-government. There is no shadow visible as in the pyramid. Therefore, although there may be the shadow of fear, doubt and mistrust among a small part of the populace, the governing body represents the will of the majority. Within the capstone is a single eye, the symbol for knowledge, understanding, wisdom, honesty, integrity and imagination. Those entrusted with the handling of governmental affairs will do so and will reflect steadfastness, singleness of purpose and the will of the majority. The capstone is in the light of Divine Providence to remind members of government of their sacred trust.

LATIN PHRASES ANNUI COEPTIS means He (Deity) views with pleasure, or looks favorably upon. There are thirteen letters in the phrase. NOVUS ORDO SECLORUM means 'a new order of things,' or, 'a new form of conduct.' It is inscribed upon a banner or scroll which reaches from horizon to horizon. The unhampered free flow of the scroll signifies freedom. The symmetry and balance of the design of the scroll signify the need for harmony and intelligent order to provide the freedom.

BACKGROUNDS Although not clear, there are clouds, mountains, plains, desertland and water depicted in the background. This symbolizes the beauty and natural resources of the nation. The background is not clear because the full potential of the natural resources is not known. In the foreground are several kinds of vegetation symbolizing the fertility of the land and the capability to provide. The land is untilled, meaning that with industry the potential productivity is unlimited in scope. There are two acacia trees, which thrive and reproduce easily in practically any climate.

CIRCULAR BAND Here the symbolic meaning of the circle takes on a different significance -- equality, dignity of the individual and order.
